

Cheryl Packard

Cheryl's son and daughter have swam for the Greenwich YWCA Dolphins since 2016. She is an active volunteer for the Dolphins and was interim CT Secretary for the last year.

Professionally, Cheryl co-runs a private investment partnership focused on small businesses. She currently serves as CEO of EDI Holding Corp., an elevator manufacturer based in Paterson, NJ. Previously she worked in finance at Merrill Lynch, Clayton Dubilier & Rice, American Express, Airlie Opportunity Fund and Ahab Capital.

Cheryl graduated from Middlebury College and Harvard Business School. She serves on the Board of Directors of Neuro580 Gives. Previously, Cheryl was a trustee of The Shackleton Schools and Greenwich Country Day School. Cheryl enjoys skiing, surfing and traveling with her husband and two children